Profile

Software Engineering undergraduate with experience building web, mobile, and database-driven applications using Java, Firebase, Hibernate, and MySQL. Strong foundation in object-oriented programming, MVC architecture, and translating user requirements into practical software solutions, with an interest in backend development and software design. Parallel studies in Psychology provide a user-centered perspective that complements system analysis and problem-solving.

Projects

Servify - Mobile Service Marketplace Platform

Java (Android), Firebase, HTML5/CSS3/JS

- Designed and developed a multi-component service marketplace (Customer, Provider, Admin) based on real-world booking workflows.
- Analyzed user requirements and implemented a real-time booking lifecycle using Firebase Firestore.
- Integrated Firebase Authentication, Firestore, and Cloud Messaging for secure access and real-time notifications.
- Achieved 100% pass rate across unit and functional tests with sub-2 second real-time updates.

Pharmacy Management System

Java, Swing, MySQL, JasperReports

- Gathered and analyzed user requirements to develop a desktop application for managing medicines, suppliers, and customer orders.
- Implemented CRUD operations for medicines and supplier records.
- Generated invoices and reports using JasperReports.
- Added low-stock notifications for inventory management.

Beverage Store Web Application

Java, Hibernate, Servlets, MySQL

- Built a database driven e-commerce web app using MVC architecture.
- Implemented session-based authentication and role-based access control.
- Integrated Hibernate ORM and Developed relational database schema for users, products, and orders.
- Managed cart functionality with persistent sessions; used Git for version control.
